About Ed Schutter: Ed Schutter is a thirty year veteran of the pharmaceutical industry currently serving as President and CEO of Arbor Pharmaceuticals. Prior to Arbor, Ed served as President of Sciele Pharmaceuticals (SCRX) which was sold to Shionogi & Co. Ltd. in 2008 for $1.3 billion. Prior to his Sciele experience, Ed served as VP of Global Business development at Solvay Pharmaceuticals based in Basel, Switzerland. He also held several senior management roles at the U.S. subsidiary of Solvay during his twenty years with the organization. Ed began his pharmaceutical career with Reid-Provident Laboratories, a small entrepreneurial pharmaceutical company based in Atlanta, Ga. Ed holds a Bachelor degree in Pharmaceutical Sciences from Mercer University, a Masters of Business Administration from Kennesaw State University and has also completed post graduate work in international business at Nyenrode University in the Netherlands.

About the Talk: Come hear Ed Schutter share his career journey and valued insight into growing Atlanta-based Arbor Pharmaceuticals. He will discuss his participation in the biomedical field and offer expertise on the economic aspect of the pharmaceutical industry.

The ScienceTALK lecture series focuses on business in science.
